

In photographic images I endeavor to capture dreamlike elements encountered at the edge of the sea. Can certain fleeting moments between consciousness and dreams be captured? With illusive impressions one ponders fantasy and reality. Which motifs are real and which illusions?

David Grant Best
Dreaming the Salish Sea
i.e. gallery
April 2025